

Arch Asawa, WACUBO President

The Western Association of College and University Business Officers
www.wacubo.org

Tales from the Front

Submission Deadline: September 5, 2018

One of the wonderful things about our college and university business management community is the opportunity to learn from your peers. WACUBO has a long tradition of sharing outstanding successes achieved by member institutions through our "Tales from the Front" program.

Being chosen for Tales from the Front is a highly impactful way for you and your team to inform colleagues across the region on how to solve a challenging problem, or best practices for tackling a vexing issue.

Your selection for Tales from the Front provides meaningful recognition for you and your institution on the good work being done today across our campuses.

So what are you waiting for? Please submit a Tales from the Front proposal today!

Four to six proposals will be chosen for presentation during a concurrent session at the 2019 Annual Conference, and each winning proposal will receive two $275 discounted Annual Conference registrations for individuals from member Institutions.

Please help us make the 2019 Annual Conference one of the strongest events in WACUBO history by participating in Tales from the Front. I look forward to seeing you in Vancouver!

Arch Asawa

Since 1937, The Western Association of College and University Business Officers has offered business officers in the western region opportunities to develop professionally, to identify solutions for issues affecting higher education, and to share their expertise with their colleagues. Our membership includes institutions in the western United States, Canadian Provinces, Mexico, and other Pacific Rim nations.

Join us for the 2019 Annual Conference in Vancouver, B.C. and share your story to help colleagues "Just Imagine" what the future may hold for higher education. Share your success stories, network with others, learn what's new, and tell your Tales from the Front.

SUBMISSION REQUIREMENTS

All submissions must include the following:

- Presenter name(s), title(s) and WACUBO member institution; only proposals from member institutions will be considered
- Presenter(s) contact information: address, phone and e-mail address
- One - two sentence credentials for each presenter
- One page synopsis (500 words or less) outlining the problem, solution, lesson(s) learned, and a statement of how this information will benefit your colleagues*
- A written statement giving permission for WACUBO to publish your materials

Use provided template for your proposal. Please submit proposals by September 5, 2018 with e-mail subject line "WACUBO Tales Proposal" to Donna Horn (donnah@seattleu.edu)

You will receive e-mail notification once your submission has been received.

NOTES: If your proposal is selected, registration at the conference is required. Only individuals from member institutions may submit and present Tales From The Front.

SUBMISSION REVIEW

Each proposal will be reviewed by the WACUBO Professional Development Workshop Committee and ranked based on how well the presentation addresses the following criteria:

- Originality of concept and approach
- Relevance of the issue/problem
- Clarity of expression
- Organization of the presentation
- Completeness of the submission

The Professional Development Workshop Committee will review submissions and e-mail authors of accepted proposals by November.

If you have additional questions please contact Donna Horn at 206-296-6221 or donnah@seattleu.edu

Vancouver | 2019